Complaints Handling Procedure

We value customer feedback and strive to continuously improve our services through ongoing analysis of complaints handling data. Foris DAX Middle East FZE (“Foris DAX ME” or the “Firm”, trading as “Crypto.com”) addresses each complaint, with integrity, in an equitable, objective, and unbiased manner. All complaints, received by Crypto.com, are investigated promptly and thoroughly in accordance with applicable regulatory standards. If you have a complaint, kindly submit it per the process outlined below and we will do our utmost to resolve your issue without delay.

A Complaint means dissatisfaction by a Consumer with a product, service, policy, procedure or actions by Foris DAX ME that is presented to an Employee of the Company in Writing, verbally or through other electronic means.

1. How to submit a complaint

Please submit your complaint to complaints@crypto.com. Alternatively, customers may submit complaints in hard copy by mail to the registered office of the Company, via in APP chat, telephone, or through a third party such as a legal representative. To help us investigate and resolve your issue efficiently, please ensure your submission includes:

- Your full registered name, address, contact details and account identifier.
- A clear description of the facts and circumstances surrounding your claim.
- Relevant supporting documentation and/or evidence (e.g., transaction IDs, communications, screenshots).

2. Complaints involving Third-Party Entities

Where the provision of our services involves third-party entities (such as payment processors, banking partners and etc.):

- Crypto.com will directly receive, log, and coordinate the investigation of your complaint with the relevant third-party entity on your behalf. You do not need to contact third parties directly.
- Crypto.com remains strictly responsible to you for the overall handling and resolution of the complaint, regardless of third-party involvement.

3. Timeline and resolution process

The Company is committed to accepting and handling all submissions from customers, regardless of format or content. There are no formal criteria that a complaint must meet to be considered valid by the Company. Every complaint received will be formally recorded and acknowledged.

Any complaints raised in regard to virtual asset activities are formally recorded and acknowledged within 1 week of a complaint being made.

Any complaints raised in relation to Crypto.com Pay are formally recorded and acknowledged within two(2) working days of a complaint being made.

We aim to provide a final outcome to any complaint within 4 weeks of receipt.

The final outcome and response will include:

- whether we uphold or reject your complaint—in whole or in part—and outline any offer of redress or compensation, where appropriate.
- If any part of your complaint is rejected, we will provide a clear and detailed explanation of why. (Please note: We may be unable to share specific details if doing so is restricted by law or relates to our financial crime compliance obligations).
- If you remain unsatisfied with our final decision, we will provide clear instructions on how you can escalate your complaint to the relevant regulatory Complaint Resolution Mechanism.

Under extreme circumstances, such as complex investigations (including those requiring third-party coordination) that cause a delay, we will formally notify you within 4 weeks of your submission, outlining the reason for the delay and expected next steps.

In all circumstances, we strive to reach a final resolution and issue a final response within 8 weeks of receiving your complaint.
